"The Heart of Maryland." The enthusiasm with which Mr. David Belasco's romantic and realistic play, "The Heart of Maryland," was received upon the occasion of its previous performance in this city is a matter of pleasant record. The play was a revelation of dramatic genius, a rare example of stage craft in construction, and of fascinating picturesque beauty in the realism of its scenic illustrations. These attributes were accentuated by the artistic and effective acting of the company. In every condition of its performance it was a reflex of reality, not an imitation. There are very few such plays, if there are any, so perfectly and so clearly humanly natural in their progress act by act, or so coherent and absorbingly interesting in the story, now before the public, or that have been brought forward within the past score of years. Plays again and again have been successful and held their popularity for a season because of some special scene, event or character, but they lacked the vitality and firmness of purpose in the construction, the delicate mingling of pathos and humor and sincerity in the portrayal of the grandeur of the passions that have made "The Heart of Maryland" one of the foremost plays of the fine old classic period. The announcement is made that "The Heart of Maryland" will again be presented in this city on Wednesday, November 13, by a company which is said to be equal to any that has yet interpreted this celebrated play, and new scenic settings have been provided for this season.

There will be a regular meeting of Barreerie, No. 1573, F. O. E., Monday evening at 7:30.

Canned Goods!

Just a Word About Them!

We are always looking for the best of everything because we believe that the best is the cheapest. Take Tomatoes, for instance. Did you ever think that it was better to buy a fifteen cent can of Tomatoes, divide it into three equal parts, add three ounces of water to each part and get a nicer Tomato and the same amount as when you buy three cans of slop for 25 cents? The same holds true on other Canned Goods. About a year ago we placed a large order for the Lawson Pink Canned Goods. These are a higher grade of Canned Goods than have ever been sold in this town—in fact some of the other drummers thought that we were crazy when we told them that we had placed an order for a carload of Lawson Pink Canned Goods. But we think that nothing is too good for the people of Barre. These goods we bought before the rise and we give you the benefit of the purchase, so that they will cost you but a trifle more than the cheaper goods. In fact the prices we are making are about 25 per cent less than what they are usually sold for in the large cities. Every can guaranteed. Ask for the Lawson Pink Canned Goods. They are the best on the market.
